ESTABLISHED A.D. 1786

VOLUME LXXXII.---NO. 139. PITTSBURGH, THURSDAY, JUNE 13, 1867. PRICE THREE CENTS.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

THE question of Consolidation is before the people of Cincinnati, West Walnut Hills asking admission to the city.

THE President of the State Agricultural Society will be in this city to-morrow. The amount necessary to defray the preparatory expenses has not all been raised; and it is desirable that this matter be closed without delay.

JUDGE WOODWARD, in a formal manner, declined being re-nominated for the Supreme Judgeship. Yet his friends, and doubtless ,by his procurement, were at the Harrisburg Convention in force, on Tuesday, importuning delegates to make him the nominee.

THE New York World makes this statement:

"President Johnson is, it seems, seriously ill. Report says his complaint is Bright's disease of the kidneys. If this is true his days are in all probability numbered, for that disease is as rarely vureable as confirmed consumption. We hope, however, it is not true."

MR. DAVIS has recovered the faculty of speech. In response to a serenade at Niagara, he said:

Gentlemen—I thank you sincerely for the honor you have this evening shown to me; it shows that true British manhood to which misfortune is always attractive. May peace and prosperity be forever the blessing of Canada, for she has been the asylum for many of my friends, as she is now an asylum to myself. I hope that Canada may forever remain a part of the British Empire, and may God bless you all, and the British flag never cease to wave over you.

MR. HARRISON, of Westmoreland county in the last Legislature, voted for Cameron for United States Senator, when it was alleged he should have supported Governor Curtin. His friends and the friends of Senator Cameron insisted upon his re-nomination, while the friends of Governor Curtin opposed him and supported Henry Edwards. The result of the vote makes Mr. Edwards the nominee, and shows Governor Curtin's friends to be four hundred and twenty-nine stronger than Gen. Cameron's.

VICE PRESIDENT WADE, at Lawrence, Kansas, made a speech containing some utterances which it will be useful to note:

"He declared unequivocally in favor of female suffrage, reiterating views expressed in the Senate last Spring. He declared that neither Johnson nor the devil could tempt Congress to desert the people; said that the Southerners now had the maddest terms offered them they ever would get; and that if they rejected them the screw would be driven another turn, and they would be compelled to yield. The Senator added that the shadow of another struggle was over us; that Congress, which has done so much for the slave, cannot quietly regard the terrible distinction which exists between the laborer and employer. Property is not fairly divided, and a more equal distribution must be wrought out. If your dull heads, he said, can't understand this, the women will, and canvassers upon the eve of an election will have to tell the laborers what they will do for them."

THE Platform adopted by the Democratic State Convention on Tuesday declares

That in the present conflict of legislative usurpation with Constitutional law, a wise, fearless and upright Judiciary is the great bulwark of public liberty; that the Union is perpetual and the Federal Government supreme within its Constitutional limits; that representation in Congress and the Electoral College is a right indestructible, and its denial is the destruction of government itself; that the establishment of negro suffrage in any of the States by federal power is an usurpation and outrage, and we will resist to the last resort the threatened measure of the Republican party in the elective franchise in Pennsylvania.

The resolutions oppose negro suffrage in Pennsylvania; denounce the Republican party for the failure of the tariff bill in the last Congress; denounce the last Legislature for its unwise and unconstitutional enactments.

FOREIGN ITEMS.

[TRANSLATED FOR THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.]
(From the other papers and Mail.)

—A Franco English Company has been formed under the name of "Compagnie Internationale Maritime," with a view to call into existence a direct steamboat line, with fixed days for departure and arrival, between New York and Paris, which will become a sea port. Work commenced in April last. Six steamboats, of three hundred and fifty horse power, and seven hundred tons each, and of mean celerity, are to play between the two cities. It is expected to make the trip in twelve days. By Charlton, the Seine river at Surene, the river will be three feet deeper at Paris than before, and it is confidently hoped that vessels may be enabled to reach Paris at the lowest depth of water.

—The Spaniards are trying to bring their national game—bull-fights—into fashion at the Paris Fair. No permission as yet has been granted. Spain possesses now one hundred circuses of solid stone masonery—thirty-five in the capitals, and sixty-five in the provincial towns. The largest circus in Valencia has room for 16,816 persons. Those in Barcelona and Cadiz for 11,500 each; those in Loyranna and Salamanca for 10,000 each. In 1865 four hundred and twenty-eight serious bull fights took place. In Madrid alone 52, one in every week; in Valencia 23; Bodagoz 22. The railroads have a great influence on bull fights, because the animals are easily transfered from one place to the other. It requires a degree of dexterity to allure the animals into the wooden boxes, in which they are transported to the railway depots.

—43,000 exhibitors are represented at the Paris Exhibition, and 430 gold medals will be awarded to them. Besides every forty-third exhibitor receives a silver, and every fourteenth a bronze medal, or every ninth one is to be graced with a diploma of acknowledgement. Therefore, 29,000 exhibitors will receive no prizes.

—At the World's Fair in Paris, France exhibits 11,645 pieces; England, 3,609; Austria, 3,072; Prussia, 2,206; Spain, 2,071; Belgium, 1,448; Russia, 1,392; Switzerland, 986; United States, 778; Sweden, 602; Holland, 504; and China, 109. Wurtemburg was the first country which fixed its special catalogue.

—Lamartine's donation of 500,000 francs has been voted by the Legislative Assembly, by a majority of 87. By this means the scandulous beggary of this prodigal has come to an end.

—Every Prussian Army Corps is to send a music band to the Paris Exhibition, which will be relieved at a fixed time by another band.

—There will be a great Sclavonic Ethnographic exhibition at Moscow during the summer. Great preparations are being made.

—In July next all European Annual Protective Societies will meet at Paris for a general Congress.

—In France they produce a coffee—surrogate from the caroba—which renders sugar useless.

—A Cholera Congress, composed of medical men, is convened for June, at Vienna.

—A correspondent at Frankfort writes: "Mr. E. B. Washburne is at Homburg les Bains, near this city. He is much improved in health, and is able to walk five or six miles every day. He may have to remain here for some weeks yet. Before coming here he could not walk a quarter of a mile without being exhausted. Governor Curtin, now at Berlin, is expected at Hamburg this week, and will be accompanied by J. C. Wright, Secretary of the American Legation there. The latter, on account of ill health, has asked to be relieved from his post."

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

FORT RILEY, June 12.—Senator Wade's party spent last night at Manhattan City and to-day at Fort Riley and Junction City.

At the former place speeches were made to the citizens, who turned out en masse, by Senators Wade, Yates, Cattell, Trumbull, Chandler, Howe, and Mr. Lovejoy. All spoke in the most glowing terms of Kansas, her country and her people, and a most brilliant future was propounded for both. They all look upon the construction of the Pacific Road, through Arizona to the Pacific, as the readiest solution of the Indian difficulties in that region.

Mr. Chandler announced himself in favor of seizing Canada to pay the Alabama claims against England.

All were everywhere cheered. The party are not able to go to the end of the track, owing to the loss of a bridge by water, which is now higher than it was in 1844. They spend to-night in camp at Fort Riley and will start to-morrow for St. Louis.

WASHINGTON, June 12, 1867.

TRIAL OF SURRATT—ARRAY OF JURORS QUASHED.

In the Criminal Court, in the Surratt case, this forenoon, Judge Fisher, in a lengthy opinion, granted the motion of the United States Attorney and quashed the array of jurors. He then discharged the present jury, and ordered twenty-six talesmen to be summoned in order to select a new one. The Court then adjourned.

CHRISTIANITY IN JAPAN.

Rev. Paul Bogley, Missionary to Japan, China, India, &c, lately addressed a note to Secretary Seward, referring to the ancient unrepealed edict making Christianity a capital offence in Japan, to which Acting Secretary F. W. Seward, on June 4th, replied that the subject has already been brought to the attention of the Japanese Government.

FREEDMEN'S BUREAU REPORTS.

Major General Howard, Commander of the Freedmen's Bureau, has received the report of Brevet Major General Gillett, Assistant Comm'r for Mississippi, detailing the operations during April. In the Sub-District of Grenada a number of Freedmen are reported returning to the older States, but they are fully counterbalanced by those brought to Mississippi. The number of Freedmen in this Sub-District is estimated at 80,000, all of whom are at work, and three-fourths have an interest in the crop to be raised. No cases of extreme suffering from the cold, or from infirm, come to the knowledge of the Sub-Assistant Commissioner. No new schools have been opened, but those established at Holly Springs are reported flourishing. The disposition of the white people toward the blacks is reported as having grown to the better. Complaint is made in regard to the manner in which the State laws are executed, producing prejudice and ill-feeling toward the freedmen. Some few planters have divided their land so that each family of freedmen work by themselves, each having a cabin and pasturage assigned them, with the privilege of raising poultry, pork, &c. for themselves. Ploughs, mules and seeds are loaned them, and they are to receive the crop raised. This consideration will doubtless be productive of thrift and industry among them.

In the sub-district of Corinth affairs are reported in anything but a promising condition, owing, chiefly, to the failure of last year's crop. The white working classes seem to be discouraged, and numerous applications are made for transportation. The district is infested by organized bands of desperadoes, calling themselves the "Night Riders," who burn, plunder, maim and murder seem to be their occupation. The treatment of freedmen by the whites is generally reported fair. Outrages upon so-called Union men are neither numerous nor influential. They express themselves to suit the society in which they happen to be. A disposition on the part of Civil Courts to treat the freedmen fairly is manifested.

The report from the officer in charge of the Sub-District of Columbus and Aberdeen is that the freedmen are working well, and the crops are promising.

The Sub-Commissioner at Natchez reports the number of freedmen in his District at 34,327. The contracts for 1867 are various in their character. Some are to receive wages, others a share of the crops.

In Yazoo district considerable trouble exists among planters in the bottom. The last month plantations have been overflowed, and as no work could be done, the planters in many instances gave the freedmen privilege to stay and get work elsewhere until the water subsided, and many will not return.

During the month complaints were made by freedmen that their fire-arms have been taken away. Measures are to be taken in reference to this matter, and the right which will be the selection of candidates for the Convention. The freedmen are looking anxiously to fall, when they expect to be governed by opinions by white men from the North. He concluded by saying the conduct of the whites toward the freedmen has greatly improved. But few outrages were reported, and those promptly corrected by the civil authorities.

THE CONVERSE CASE.

Judge Lander, counsel in the case of Converse, convicted of perjury in the Criminal Court, presented to Judge Olin an affidavit of the prisoner of the time basis of which he forms a new trial. The affidavit sets forth that he recently discovered evidence which tends to show that the witnesses were untruthful. Judge Olin expressed the wish that the motion be made in the general term. It is understood that Converse's counsel has abandoned the intention of filing the affidavit, and Converse will probably be taken to the Albany Penitentiary in a day or two.

THE EXCITEMENT TO-NIGHT.

The excitement to-night in reference to the prize fight to-morrow between Sam. Collier and Barney Aaron is intense. Persons are here from nearly all the Northern cities to see the "mill." Several steamers leave here to-night for Acquia Creek to convey the immediately start. Many of the combatants with their friends and backers, estimated at from one thousand to fifteen hundred persons, will go to-night on steamers. An immense pavilion will be erected at the fighting ground to accommodate two thousand spectators.

EXECUTIVE ORDERS AND FORMS.

The orders and forms for proceedings in bankruptcy have been printed, and a limited number authorized to be stricken off for the use of the Judges of the several Courts to be dispatched to them by the Clerk of the Court, who has no copies for general distribution. Copies can be obtained from various book sellers.

MINISTER FROM GREECE.

Kelingakee, Minister from Greece, arrived to-day. He will be at the State Department to-morrow, and will be presented to the President on Friday.

APPEALS TO BE RE-INSTATED.

Mr. Withers, late Mayor of Mobile, made a personal appeal to the President this morning for reinstatement in office.

Conference of Republicans—Difficulty Amicably Adjusted—Gen. Canby in Virginia—Tobacco Revenue—Complaints by Freedmen Investigated.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, June 12.—This morning the two Committees appointed by the two wings of the Republican party at the Convention last night, met with Senator Wilson and three other delegates from the Union League Clubs of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, at the Rollard House, where all existing dissentions of sentiment were adjusted. Gov. Pierpoint, who had been the leading spirit in the Union Convention, was elected temporary chairman, and Gov. Wells, of Louisiana, permanent chairman. Speeches were made by Senator Wilson and others, which were received with great applause. The following resolutions were then unanimously adopted:

To the Unconditional Union Men of Virginia:

The Republican Executive State Committee, and the undersigned, citizens of the State of Virginia, who met in the recent Unconditional Union men, and members of the Great Republican party of the United States, call on all others who are conditional Union men, and who desire the construction of the Government of the Prince of Lippe, to the extent of twenty thousand Prussian thalers. THE BANQUET.

In the evening a large number of invited guests, including many of our most respected and esteemed fellow-citizens, with their wives and daughters, assembled at Lafayette Hall for the grand Concert, Promenade and Banquet of the Allegheny County Medical Society. The music part of the entertainment was really grand. Some twenty-five of our talented professional musicians formed the orchestra, and the band, which occupied the stage, and under the leadership of Prof. Tsorge, discoursed some of the most delightful music selected from the Operas of the Masters. The entire assemblage, as brilliant as we have ever witnessed in this city, and the whole affair proceeded and enjoyed quiet tete a tetes in the beautiful hall till a few minutes past twelve o'clock, when it will be concluded the Mayor stated that from the testimony adduced he could not do otherwise than find the prisoner guilty, and a commitment was accordingly made out.

ANOTHER PARTY ARRESTED.

Victor Kellar, a nephew of Dennis Kellar proprietor of the house in which Goldrich was shot, and who it will be remembered was a witness of the shooting, and testified before the Coroner's Jury, was arrested yesterday, and will have a hearing before Mayor Morrison to-day, on an information made by Goldrich's brother, charging him with murder. Kellar, in his testimony before the Coroner, stated that he struck McFarland twice or three times, when he heard a noise behind him, and on looking round saw his uncle and Goldrich in a scuffle, Goldrich having hold of his uncle's hair, and just as that moment he heard the breaking of glass, and the report of a pistol, when he immediately jumped over some barrels and left the house, by the back door, and went home, where he remained until the next morning. It was upon this testimony the information was based, taking it in consideration with the fact that no pistol was found on McFarland. We refrain from making any comments on the affair, feeling satisfied that the guilty party will be brought to justice.

Convention of Good Templars.

There arrived delegates from all parts of the State yesterday, to attend the Convention of Good Templars now being held in the city. The meeting was held at Mozart Hall, but our reporter could not obtain admittance inasmuch as the session was secret. To-day, we understand, an open or public meeting will be held at the same place.

Changed Hats.—The individual who got the wrong hat at the M. D's banquet last evening, is respectfully informed that we are satisfied with the bargain, and cannot think of remedying his mistake.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

The Procession—Assembly at Academy of Music—Address of the Grand Prelate—Installation of Officers—Banquet, &c., &c.

Yesterday was held in this city the annual meeting for the election of officers, to serve the ensuing year, of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania Knights Templar of the Masonic fraternity. Sir Knights from all sections of the State were in attendance and the entire proceedings were highly interesting and edifying. The election for officers was proceeded with at ten o'clock in the morning, in the rooms of the Pittsburgh Commandery of Knights, of the Red Cross, in Masonic Hall building. The following Sir Knights were elected as officers for the ensuing term of one year:

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Jeremiah L. Hutchison—Grand Commander, Philadelphia.

John Wallenchamp—Deputy Grand Commander, Harrisburg.

J. H. Hopkins—Grand Generalissimo, Pittsburgh.

H. B. McKean—Grand Captain General, Towanda.

Rev. E. H. Pattison—Grand Prelate, Philadelphia.

C. M. Howell—Grand Senior Warden, Lancaster.

Abraham Miller—Grand Junior Warden, Easton.

R. A. O. Kerr—Grand Treasurer, Altoona.

Alfred Creigh—Grand Recorder, Washington.

Ernest Knapp—Grand Standard Bearer, Pine Knyille.

Z. P. Rierer—Grand Sword Bearer, Greensburg.

Fitz P. Evans—Grand Warden, York.

PROCESSION.

After the result of the election was announced, the Sir Knights and officers formed themselves into line of procession and, preceded by a full brass band moved from the hall through a few of the principal streets of the city. Their appearance was imposing, and we do not remember ever having seen so large a body of the order in a body of men together. Each was clad in plain citizen dress, wearing a white sash about the waist, and a red cross upon the waist and parade swords at the side. A neat cap with white silk band was worn by the Sir Knights, surmounted by black with plumes were adopted by the officers. Several magnificent silk banners were carried, richly emblazoned with the various orders of Masonry. About three hundred joined in the procession. Sir Knight George Nesbit acted as Marshal, and Sir Knights Hopper and Fenn as Aids. The Sir Knights D. M. Watt and Capt. W. D. Spining.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION.

Previous to the arrival of the procession at the commodious Academy of Music, every seat had been taken in the dress circle, and the parquette was filled with ladies and gentlemen. The parquette had been reserved for the accommodation of the Sir Knights, so that upon their arrival they could at once take their positions. The retiring officers and those newly elected and about to be inducted into office, were assigned seats on the stage. At nine o'clock precisely the curtain rose, the late Grand Commandant, R. A. Pitcairn, Esq., occupying the centre.

A very excellent Glee Club in attendance chanted a hymn of praise to the Almighty, which was followed by an eloquent prayer of a Bradbury piano, under the manipulation of a clever pianist, after which an eloquent address was delivered by Rev. E. H. Pattison, grand Prelate, of Bloomsburg, Pa.

Grand Commander Pitcairn, at the conclusion of the Prelate's prayer, stepped forward, and in a brief manner introduced to the ladies present, and friends in attendance, Rev. E. H. Pattison, grand Prelate elect of Philadelphia, who proceeded to deliver, in the most graceful and effective style of address, the finest we ever heard, a address, which we publish in full in acquiescence to the universal desire of those in attendance.

THE ADDRESS.

Obedience is a lesson to-night within the sacred enclosures of Masonry. I arise to obey that lesson, and to perform my duty with diffidence I enter upon the work committed to my hands, surrounded as I am by so many brethren of the Knights Templar, who by their zeal, energy, intelligence, and well directed labors, have shed so much lustre upon this noble branch of the order. Eminent Sirs, another lesson which you have taught, with so much earnestness, and doubtless will be afforded to me, in mine, charity is yours to-day.

There is a beautiful tradition connected with the order which tells us that the Temple mine was erected. It is said to have been owned in common by two brothers, one of whom, in the days of his prosperity, loaned the other some gold with which to build a house. On the spot was sown a field of wheat. On the evening succeeding the harvest, the owner, in passing through the field, counted the sheaves, the elder brother said unto his wife:

"My younger brother is unable to bear the burden and heat of the day; I will arise, take of my sheaves and place them with his that his store may be equal to mine." The younger brother, in the morning, said unto his wife: "My elder brother has a family and I have

A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The holding of a Convention to revise the Constitution of Pennsylvania is attracting increased attention from the press and from prominent citizens. A deep feeling pervades the Commonwealth on account of the scandalous manner in which public affairs are managed at Harrisburg, and a determination has been formed that a remedy shall be devised and applied. The shamelessness with which money was demanded at the last session, not by a few, but by most of the members, as the condition upon which they would hinder or help legislation, has become widely known, and has created an indignation that will not be easily pacified.

In the earlier stages of legislative corruption it was the habit of even debauched and mercenary members to act upon a class of bills, known under the designation of "public," with at least a show of decency and conscience, and to exact gratifications only on bills popularly known as "private." That distinction, which preserved a lingering tradition that "public" business was to be transacted upon high considerations of utility, and principle, has been swept away. Instances have become frequent of members bluntly demanding on matters purely public, "How much money is there to be had?"

Towards the close of the last session some gentlemen had determined to institute criminal proceedings against various members for taking bribes. These gentlemen were appalled when met by a threat to retaliate upon the members from their own county; and a show of hands was made, disclosing incontestible evidence that it could be done and that effectua ly. Rather than bring their own neighbors and acquaintances into disrepute and trouble, the proceedings were unwisely abandoned.

On a previous occasion we referred to an attempt made by the members in framing the General Appropriation Bill, to vote themselves larger salaries than they were entitled to. We explained how the bottom of the Treasury was reached, and how, after trying to turn the Sinking Fund into the General Fund, that it also might be exhausted, the salaries were made considerably less than was intended, because the money could not be found to make them larger. But another scheme was resorted to, last winter, on a larger scale than ever before, for increasing the emoluments. The greater portion of the Senators and Representatives took on sons with them, who were appointed to places of one sort or another about the Legislature. So many of the members were concerned in this dodge that they were enabled to make the pay of these youngsters all they dared. This practice is greatly to be reprobated. It has come to amount to taking indirectly from the Treasury sums that the members dare not take directly.

In the present temper of the people—and it is not likely to cool—a Constitutional Convention would provide stringent remedies for existing abuses. The prevailing nepotism would be knocked unceremoniously on the head. Private legislation, as it is termed, would be absolutely prohibited. The requirement would be made absolute that all legislation [illegible] applicable to [illegible] the Courts in the respective counties be limited to [illegible] ing charged with the duty of securing that all associations of citizens desiring corporate franchises, and all existing companies desiring amendments, conformed to the rule established. The session would be limited to not exceeding sixty days, the pay of members rigidly fixed, and the number of the members very much increased. Provision would doubtless be made for compelling parties giving bribes, or suspected of giving them, to become witnesses against members taking bribes.

In the Republican ranks the feeling is decided that the Williamsport State Convention ought to take strong ground in favor of a Constitutional Convention.

A DIFFERENCE DISCRIMINATED.

A year and a half ago a formidable conspiracy was entered into for the purpose of breaking up existing political organizations, and inaugurating what was called in the days of President MONROE "an era of good feeling." Those who entered into this combination knew full well that political parties are indispensable under all forms of government; and that the more directly the people participate in conducting public affairs, the greater the need of parties, and the more invincible the impossibility of getting rid of them. So long as men differ in judgment—and that will be as long as men remain men—they will group together in clans, each clan endeavoring to give predominance to its own ideas. Nor is this prejudicial. Far otherwise. In this way is accomplished in the realm of politics what the winds and tides do for the material world.

Many men who started in this extraordinary enterprise, with reared crests and proud voices, soon found to their dismay, that it was doomed to swift discomfiture, and they turned square about, and entered upon the other tack, assuming to be at least veterans, if not commanders. If they exhibited a lack of good sense in getting themselves into a false position, they showed agility and discretion in getting out. All were not so prudent. Not a few kept on, notwithstanding the numerous desertions from their ranks, seemingly confident they distinguished infallible signs of a millenium, in which even the wild beasts of all the parties should lie down lovingly in one kraal, extensive as the country. As if this infatuation was not absurd enough, they demand fraternity with a truculence and an acerbity that would add repulsiveness to common bullies. These "era of good feeling" advocates think the true manner of reducing all men to their way of thinking is by "apostolic fists and knocks," of which Mr. GREELEY, for instance, can bear feeling testimony. Especially do these pugnacious peace men detest the Republican party, and seek its extirpation. Sometimes they insist it has done all the valuable work it is capable of, and ought to be gathered without ceremony to the limbo of useless rubbish. They proclaim that it is dominated by bad men, who direct its energies to reprehensible ends, and from whose mastery they have endeavored to take it, but without success. Ay; there's the rub. They essayed to rule, and failed. Because they were not trusted, they think none should be. At other times they present themselves before the party, bland and suave, and while they give it the kiss of filial affection, they stab it under the fifth rib.

It is worthy of consideration that while these discontented souls are demanding the disbandment of the Republican party; are denouncing it as harsh, vindictive, proscriptive, intolerant; the military leaders of the rebellion are, with almost unanimous consent, testifying to its lenity, moderation, and magnanimity. They understand what responsibilities those incur who embark in a revolt against the constituted authorities and are put down. They know what severities the rules of war, in such cases, allow and justify; and they are astonished and overcome in being permitted to remain securely at home, surrounded by their families, amply protected in their property, and permitted to engage, as of old, in any lawful pursuit. They go even farther than this in their acknowledgments. General LONGSTREET, for example, in a letter published in these columns yesterday, perceives that the Democratic party clings tenaciously to the dead past; that it insists on issues which events have decided and swept away; that it presents no points of actual contact with men who leave the dead to bury the dead, through a desire to act well their part with the living; while the Republican party meets with efficiency and propriety the case as it really stands, in a spirit of enlarged patriotism, and a fixed determination to do the best that can be done under the circumstances.

OUR DISABLED SOLDIERS.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

"What shall our disabled soldiers do?" is the caption of an editorial in the New York Weekly Tribune of June 5th, inst. Mr. Greeley thinks this is a momentous question, and I agree with him. But would not a more fitting way of stating the question be "What shall we do for our disabled soldiers?"

Mr. Greeley, while admitting the fact that thousands of our brave soldiers have lost either an arm or a leg—some, indeed, even both of these—in the service of our country; that others have been rendered blind or deaf, and still others who have come back saddened and hopeless, with health and strength completely wrecked by the hardships endured in her defense, calls on individuals to support and employ these brave cripples at such wages as they (the soldiers) can earn.

Is there not something foolish; nay, dishonorable, in asking individuals to maintain our disabled soldiers when we have or ought to have a Government not only able, but willing to take care of them? A Government, too, for whose treasured life they have crippled their own.

Mr. G. also states that the paltry $100 bounty is of but momentary consequence to any of them, and, in the aggregate, adds an enormous burden to the national debt! And after calling on individuals to support these soldiers—the maimed, the blind, the broken down in constitution—there is given another panacea for those brave boys who were so fortunate as to lose but one arm in the service, namely: to learn to write with the left hand, and eke out a subsistence for themselves and their families by such copying as can be obtained. Heaven look down and help our brave defenders if this is all that can be done for them! If it is, the adage is verified that "Republics are ungrateful." But is there no other way of aiding our maimed heroes than the plan given? I think there is.

First, let the Government ascertain (and this can easily be done by the Assessors and their Assistants in every district and division in the United States) how many of them are utterly helpless; how many partially disabled; how many of their widows and orphans there are needing help; let Government ascertain what amount of money is necessary to provide justly for them all, but giving to all according to their need. To those hopelessly disabled, during life; to those partially so, until they can be educated and fitted for book-keepers, teachers, &c.; and to the orphans, until they are able to take care of themselves and their money.

I know not and I care not what amount of money may be required. It can be raised if the Administration and Congress so will it. How? will be naturally asked. I answer, ascertain first how much is needed, and then levy the whole amount pro rata according to his wealth, on every rebel in the land.

Mr. Greeley and other sentimental philanthropists may say, "This is confiscation." Admit that it is. Confiscation is carried out under the laws of all the States every day in the year. For instance, the employes of a railroad company, either by accident or design, run a train off the track, killing and wounding many passengers. A jury assess the damages each passenger has sustained; and, if the money is not paid, the sheriff confiscates and sells enough of the wrong-doer's property to satisfy all demands; and every right thinking man says amen. A city corporation [illegible] it the money is not paid, [illegible] fiscates, and all say amen.

A malicious farmer kills or maims his neighbor's stock; destroys his fences and crops, or cripples the owner; then another confiscation, if the damage is not made good without that summary process. Such is the case among all States, all nations, and in all civilized society; and all honorable and just men say it is right.

Now, will any man, anywhere, pretend to say that the Southern rebels are less guilty than the railroad company, city corporation, or malicious farmer? No man will. Then why not make them pay the damage they have done, as we compel all others? The principle is the same; nay, if anything, they who have wounded and maimed our soldiers are more to blame than any of the cases above stated.

J. G. P.

The Cole Tragedy.

There seems to be something singular about the Albany tragedy, and the following items, which we clip from the New York journals, throw anything but light upon the matter:

[From the Syracuse Journal.]

There is positive and conclusive evidence that the statement of Mrs. Cole, upon which her husband acted, are untrue. The story about the will, with which the statement of the prisoner opens, will be shown by the surviving witness to that paper to be baseless. We learn from that witness that the will was drawn at Mrs. Cole's dictation by Mr. Hiscock in his law office, where she was for nearly half a day engaged in determining what its provisions and language should be. There are other leading points of the prisoner's statement that are equally baseless. We make this publication because the statement to which it relates is the subject of discussion throughout the country, and thus much, it seems imperative, should be known by the public.

[From the Utica Herald.]

It has been stated that Mrs. Cole had, during her husband's absence in the army, inherited considerable property, perhaps twenty thousand dollars. Mr. Hiscock has been surrogate of his county, and by consequence had naturally become the adviser of widows and other women who hold property in their own right. Suppose he had deemed it wise, for any reason, to counsel Mrs. Cole to keep her money within her own control, or that her husband derived an impression that such effect? These intimations are made in current conversation at Syracuse. Such circumstances may have aggravated the fires of jealousy, and maddened a brain inclined to rashness.

Make it for Life.

During the present term of the Howard County Court, a man charged with grand larceny gave satisfactory evidence that he was unable to employ counsel, and Judge Louse appointed H. H. Bennett, Esq., of Kokomo, to defend him. Bennett, after spending some time in consultation with his client and in the examination of the case, found that the guilt of the accused would be clearly made out, and persuaded him to plead guilty to petit larceny. The Court refused to accept his plea, Bennett arose and said:

"Well, I reckon we can plead guilty to grand larceny."

"Yes," replied the Judge.

Then we plead guilty to grand larceny," said Bennett.

"This being the case," said the Judge, "it remains only for the Court to fix the penalty; and we will fine you five dollars, sentence you to the State Prison for two years, and disfranchise you for—for—for life."

"Make it for life, your Honor," said Bennett, looking at the Judge over the top of his spectacles, "the prisoner's a lawyer."

This brought down the whole bar and shook the gravity of the Court to such an extent that the completion of the sentence was much delayed.

Survey of the Lakes.

The survey of the Northern lakes is to be prosecuted this year with energy, under the direction of Brevet Brigadier General Wm. F. Reynolds. The Detroit Post says:

One of the most interesting subjects to be investigated this year is a new one, namely, the source of supply and the outflow of the great Northwestern lakes. There has been some discussion but no investigation among the scientific men on this subject. Some have claimed that the fall of rain and the inflowing streams are not sufficient to feed the lakes with their constant evaporation and outflow, and that there must be a subterranean source of supplies. Others again contend that the single outlet of Niagara river is not sufficient to carry off the water which is constantly poured into the lakes from numerous sources, and that there must be a subterranean outlet. As before stated there will be special investigation with reference to the subject during the coming season. This work has been placed in the charge of D. Farrand Henry.

CRUELTY TO CHILDREN does not appear to be confined to this side of the Atlantic. A scoundrel in England stripped his eleven-year old daughter naked and tied her to a beam in the garret, when he flogged her with a rope. She got loose and ran away, when he tied her up for an hour. She again got loose and escaped through a sky-light to the roof, from which she fell into the yard and was taken by a neighbor to the police station. A few days previous by her unnatural father tied her, naked, to the same beam, with her toes just touching the ground, and whipped her with stinging nettles—a refinement of cruelty worthy the invention of a demon.

A Remarkable Story—How an Old Lady Disposed of Her Fortune.

The London correspondent of the Belfast News Letter vouches for the truth of the following remarkable narrative:

"A short time since an old lady, living in one of the small streets leading out of Albany street, Regent's Park, close to what was once the Colosseum, entered the shop of Mr. ——, a poulterer in the neighborhood, and purchased a chicken. The tradesman was attentive to her, as such people ought to be, and the lady became a customer, always coming to the shop and giving her own orders. She appeared to be very old, but to have all her faculties about her. One Saturday evening she came when the poulterer happened to be very busy. She said she wished to speak to him, and he asked her to walk into the little parlor behind the shop, and he would come to her the moment he was disengaged.

In the parlor she met the daughter of the poulterer, and, after some conversation, in the course of which she remarked that the young girl looked ill and required change of air, she produced a parcel, tied up in paper, and said: 'Give this to your father, as he is busy and cannot come, and I can not wait. I wish him to take you away for a little change, and here is something that will enable him to do so.' She placed the parcel in the girl's hand, and told her to lock it up in a cupboard to which she pointed. The girl did so, and thought no more of the matter; but when, some hours subsequently, the shop was closed, and her father came into the parlor to get his supper, she produced the parcel, and gave the message by which it was accompanied. The poulterer laughed as he untied it; but, to his amazement, the parcel was found to consist of bank notes and gold of the value of £1,000. There was also in it an antique gold watch and chain.

The next day Mr. —— hurried round to his customer to thank her, when she desired him to take his daughter out of town for a few days, and on their return to inform her of their arrival. This, of course, was done. A day or two after their return she called at the shop of Mr. ——, and said she wished him to come to her house to tea, accompanied by his daughter. As they were about to leave, after partaking of her hospitality, she said to Mr. ——. 'I wish you particularly to call upon me to-morrow morning and bring with you two respectable persons upon whom you can rely.' The next morning Mr. —— attended, accompanied by the curate of the parish and a neighbor. The old lady then said that she was upward of ninety years of age, and had no relative living but an attorney, who, she alleged, had not treated her well, and by whom, she said she had lost £20,000. She added that she had £25,000 in consols still left, and as she felt she would not live long, and was resolved that the attorney should not get anything belonging to her, she had asked Mr. —— to attend, with two witnesses, in order that she might transfer to him, for his own absolute use, the £25,000 to which she had referred. She added that she knew very well what she was about, and that by giving him the money while she was alive, instead of bequeathing it to him at her death, he would be saved the amount of legacy duty to the extent of £2,000.

"This announcement appeared to be of so singular a nature that the clergyman very properly suggested that a solicitor should be sent for. The man of law came accordingly, and the transfer was duly effected. The old lady's presentiment of approaching dissolution proved to be correct, as she died a few weeks after making this singular disposition of her property. It seems that before her death she had intended to give the money to a chemist with whom she used to deal, but that he had offended her by some inattention to her wishes."

The moral of this story, (of the substantial accuracy of which there can be no doubt whatever,) is that civility costs nothing, and may sometimes yield a rich reward.

Scandal Affair.

On Saturday last, a prominent physician of Galesburg, Illinois, was called to attend the wife of a mechanic here. While seated in the parlor she entered and accused the doctor of having seduced her during a former professional visit, and pointing a pistol at his head demanded pay for her ruin. The doctor signed a check for $1,000 and gave his note for $2,000 more, due in three months. The husband of the woman, a Spiritualist by the name of Randall, aided her. The physician finally escaped from the house and fled.

The parties were arrested by the physician upon a charge of extorting money. [illegible] had been in progress for [illegible] ...

A NATIONAL MEDICINE.

One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner now-a-days that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Prof. So-and-so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is, or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from public notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medicinal preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the crucial test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. Here are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the final judgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have on our shelves, and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated HOP PITTERS SPANISH MIXTURE. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement by all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the ailments for which they are recommended. Nothing has attested the merits of diseases of the throat, bowels and liver, in that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In fluttering nervous, these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. Call at our store, speaks volumes in their favor.—Extracts from the Muscatine (Iowa,) Courier, Feb. 7, 1867.

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Sweet, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, enabling them to regain their wet tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise well suited to chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected perfect cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodrich, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pine, says: "It is prescribed in leucorrhœa, piles, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrhal affections, and in various forms of rheumatism. It is exceedingly valuable in all gravelly affections, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, it induces a healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price, $1 per bottle; six for $5.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the proprietor, corner of Union and Hanover streets, Boston, and by druggists generally.

Beware of spurious imitations. Be sure and get the genuine.

For sale by all druggists and dealers in medicines.

THE COURTS.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

This Court met Wednesday at ten o'clock, Hon. Thomas Mellon on the bench, Col. L. B. Duff, District Attorney.

SPECIAL PRESENTMENT BY THE GRAND JURY —THE BEEF QUESTION.

The grand jury came into Court and presented a paper, designated "a special presentment," which read as follows:

To the Honorable, &c.—The Grand Inquest now inquiring in and for the county of Allegheny, upon their oaths and solemn affirmations respectfully do present,

That they have been investigating the alleged purchase and sale of diseased and unwholesome flesh as an article of food in the public markets and elsewhere. They have examined a large number of witnesses under oath in regard thereto, and now come into Court and make this their presentment against parties named herein, and respectfully ask that the Court direct the Assistant District Attorney to prepare and submit bills of indictment against them in proper form, for selling and exposing for sale the flesh of diseased animals and other unwholesome flesh, for the action of the Grand Inquest, that they may be further dealt with according to law.

The following are the names of the parties:

Henry Hershhauser, alias Dutch Henry.	David Tomer,
Jacob Meisel,	William Bowman, sr.,
Thomas Heims,	George Bowman,
William Heims,	John Bowman,
John Hoffman,	J. Liebenspahr,
Jacob Haas,	Charles Liebenspahr,
— Sherman,	Samuel Clowen,
Adam Hoffman,	Martin Grady,
Andrew Kathalder,	John Kathalder,
Charles Kathalder	Jacob Hawar,
William Tomer,	Paul Hefty.

FELIX R. BRUNOT, Foreman.
W. N. OGDEN, Clerk.

The following was endorsed on the paper:

And now, June 12th, 1867, the within presentment having been read in open Court by the Grand Jury, and on consideration thereof the Court do order and direct the Assistant District Attorney for Allegheny County to prepare and submit bills of indictment against the persons named within for the offenses alleged against them severally for the action of the Grand Jury.

BY THE COURT.

A CASE FROM FRANKSTOWN.

The Court session opened with a most pleasant (in the opposite sense) surety case, the details of which, from the mouths of half a score of witnesses, sorely tried the proverbially even-tempered and mild-mannered Judge Mellon. His attempts to "abbreviate" the oft-told story pro and con, and to have it in alternate pieces, in order that the interpreter might perform his office with any degree of correctness, were in vain, and finally the easiest and best way was found to be to allow the willing witnesses full swing. The parties reside in the village of Frankstown, near the city, occupying adjoining houses, and are Germans, Swopes from Wittenberg. Valentine See was the complainant against Mrs. Catharine, Joseph, August, George and Henry Korth for surety of the peace. The QUEEN Penalty, originated about a dog, which "snapped" at one of the Korths; an attempt to chastise the canine caused a storm; next the ducks were growled about; next the clothes' line. Mrs. See testifying that Mrs. Korth threw a bucket of ashes in the yard, soiling clothes hung out to dry; she also gave more grievous offense by emptying a wee pot from from an up stairs chamber upon Mrs. See's head; there were in addition threats made, and on one occasion Mrs. See was "struck at and missed." The quarrels it appeared were about very trifling matters, however the annoyance was rather serious, but there were two sides to the story, and it was hard indeed to decide which of the very bad neighbors were the worst. Judge Mellon dealt out even handed justice by requiring each of the parties to pay their own witness' costs, the Korth family to pay the docket costs, and to enter into recognizances in the sum of $500 to keep the peace. The Sees and Korths had prosecuted each other for assault and battery, but the Grand Jury having returned the bills ignoramus, the litigious, quarrelsome, backbiting, cross-suitors were required to pay the costs.

A WIFE DESERTION CASE.

Mrs. Evans see Thompson complained of her husband, Lewis Evans, for desertion. She resided in East Birmingham, and testified that she was married on the 6th of May last; that her husband remained with her that night, left her next day, after giving her one dollar, and had not since had anything to do with or made any provision for her. At the time of her marriage she was at the house of Mrs. Smith, where her husband took her, and has since remained there. On cross-examination she stated her conduct since her marriage was in all respects proper. For the defence it was claimed that the marriage of Evans, who is quite an old man, employed as a laborer at Chess's factory, was a practical joke, perpetrated while he was intoxicated. Evidence was offered that the house of Mrs. Smith, where the wife was staying, was not a proper one, and informations for the keeping of a "disorderly house" had been made against Mrs. Smith by Henry Herman and Mrs. John Davis. Judge Mellon thought the appearance of Mrs. Evans, and also that of Mrs. Smith, did not carry out the impression endeavored to be conveyed as to their character; they showed no sign of the kind of people they were alleged to be. Although the Court allowed great latitude in the hearing of desertion cases, the Act of Assembly did not seem to justify it. If a man took a woman for a wife, it was his duty to support her, and it appearing that Evans earned ten dollars per week at his labor, it was reasonable that he should pay out of that three dollars to his wife, It was so ordered.

A DOG CASE.

"Strike dog, strike master," was the "moral" of the next case. Commonwealth vs. Henry Warrick; assault and battery. Margaret Shane, No. 139 Mulberry alley, Ninth ward, the prosecutrix, had a dog; it was a small dog. The defendant, Warrick, residing at No. 341 Penn street, had a larger dog. The two dogs quarreled, and were about to "fight it out," when Mrs. Shane, thinking Warrick's dog should "take one of his size," interfered. Warrick wanted "fair play," and Mrs. Shane raised a large bowl which she had in her hand and endeavored to strike; Warrick warded off the blow with a dog which he was carrying under his arm. That defendant committed an assault and battery, in striking and shoving about Mrs. Shane, whilst she was endeavoring to keep the dogs apart, there seemed to be no doubt, and it was also shown that Mrs. Shane returned, perhaps provoked, the violence, to the extent of throwing stones. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, defendant to pay the costs.

ANOTHER SURETY CASE—INDICATIONS OF PERJURY.

Miss Virginia Wood, of uncertain age, but not over twenty, we judge, testified that on the 10th of May, in the evening between eight and nine o'clock, Adam Miller, W. H. Berger, William McAleese and Henry Brown came to her mother's house, in Hooker's Liberty township, and called her out; she refused; they said she must come; she said she would not come out to any one she did not know; one said, "d——n you, if you don't come out, we'll find a way to make you;" just then a stone was thrown by Miller which struck something on the shoulder, glancing struck her mother's sleeve, and then went full in the face of a little girl who was holding a baby. Miss Wood said she was afraid the defendants would do her some harm. Against Miller she had preferred a charge of assault and battery, and he was not present. For the defense, F. Ray, a neighbor, testified that he was passing in the vicinity and heard some loud talk; asked Mrs. Wood what was going on; she said "some Ethiopian s——, had thrown a stone and struck her daughter." Miss Wood said she did not know who it was; that it was some man who ran up the railroad. Mr. Wood came up with the defendants, Berger, Brown and McAleese and accused them of being implicated, but Miss Wood said they were not the persons.

Mr. Brown, one of the defendants, was permitted to make a statement. He went to see a man, (residing next door to Mr. Wood's,) for whom he had arranged to build a chimney; remained there for some time, when Miss Wood came out and said: "some G—— Ethiopian s—— threw a stone into the house, and I believe it was one of your party." Berger and McAleese were standing near at the time, but not with Miller, who did not come with them, and Miss Wood took them into the house and told her father they had nothing to do with the throwing of the stone. Miss Wood was recalled and reiterated under oath that she saw Miller throw the stone, and that Brown, McAleese and Berger were with him. Mr. Ward, the father, testified that his daughter had not represented to him that Berger, McAleese and Brown were not present, and that he distinctly heard the accused prosecute them; Berger had been charged by him with throwing the stone, but this was a mistake. As there was evidently a mistake somewhere, which might take might amount to perjury, the Court declined to dispose of the case at present.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF.

Mary A. Gracey was convicted on an indictment charging her with malicious mischief—breaking of four panes of glass—on oath of John Scheif, and was sentenced to pay a fine of six and a fourth cents and costs.

FORCIBLE ENTRY AND ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

A jury was sworn to try three cases, viz: Commonwealth vs. Edward Bendlow, assault and battery, on oath of Margaret Shaffer; Commonwealth vs. Edward Bendlow, forcible entry, on oath of Elizabeth Burns, and Commonwealth vs. David Davis and Mary A. Davis, forcible entry, on oath of Elizabeth Burns. The cases originated out of an attempt to dispossess Elizabeth Burns of the house occupied by her in Findley township, known as the mansion of the late William Burns. On trial at adjournment.

Assault and Battery.

Joshua Splane made information before Alderman McMasters, against Henry B. Morgan, charging him with assault and battery. Splane had his leg broken several years ago, and is so badly crippled that he has to use crutches. He is an old and respectable citizen, and keeps a furniture ware-room, at the corner of Smithfield street and Diamond alley. Yesterday while standing in his door he saw a son of the defendant, Morgan, who lives in the vicinity, abusing a boy much smaller than himself, when he interfered and rescued the little fellow without abusing young Morgan in the least. Mrs. Morgan came to the door and saw what was going on and said she would send her husband over in the evening to whip Splane, for interfering with her child. In the evening Morgan came, and entered Splane's store and abused him shamefully by clutching him by the shoulders and dragging him around the room, and shaking him violently. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Morgan.

Horticultural Society.

The Pittsburgh Horticultural Society held a meeting yesterday at their room in the City Building, opposite the Common Council chamber, George R. White Esq., in the chair, and Dr. D. Bacon, Secretary. The object of the meeting was to consider the propriety of having a "strawberry exhibition," and it was decided to have such, at their room, on the 24th inst. The exhibition will be for the purpose of making a thorough comparison between the various kinds of strawberry grown in this vicinity, and it is to be hoped that a large attendance will be present.

A. P. A.—The American Protestant Association of the State of Pennsylvania, in session in Philadelphia, elected Col. David L. Smith, of Pittsburgh, Grand Master for the ensuing year.

Gold was strong all day at 137¼@137¾. The exports amount to-day to about one and a half million dollars. Transactions in the gold room are very much cooled down, and scarcely one half the business is done now compared with that three weeks ago; it paid much better to speculate in Government bonds and Railroad shares. The stock sold in February at about 2,50, advanced to 7,00, declined to 1,04, and on a corner run up to $18 per share. After the corner was dissolved it sold down to 700 per share on news spread by the bears. This stock used to be extensively dealt in here, but we hope our friends availed themselves of our repeated warnings cautioned in these columns. Local stocks are all from ½ to 1 per cent. lower to-day, on an unusual demand for money.

—A St. Louis telegram, under date of Tuesday, says: D. C. Freeman, private banker, closed his doors yesterday. Causes, speculation in distillery. Amount of liabilities unknown.

—A New York papers speak of the Western Union Telegraph Company, as follows: The Company have added $400,000 to their property out of the receipts of the present year, and have also recently paid off about $400,000 of maturing bonds. Their half yearly cash dividend is 2 per cent. after these disbursements (to come off the present market price of the stock), and as the company have no further sums of funded debt to mature for nine years, they will be free hereafter to increase their cash dividends to the extent of their net earnings, and to provide at the same time a liberal sinking fund for their funded debt.

—The New York Post says: Another development in regard to the First National Bank of New Orleans was reported yesterday as follows by Sergeant Bell, Deputy Assistant United States Marshal, has had for two years past $ 50,000 of the proceeds of the cargo of the Gray Jacket in his possession, and has been using the money in New York, but recently ordered it back through A. C. Graham, correspondent of the First National Bank in New York. Mr. Bell returned to New Orleans after he was closed. The case of the Gray Jacket has been recently decided by the United States Supreme Court in favor of the Government, and Mr. Bullitt has been ruled into Court for not paying over the money. The Government will lose the amount. The curieties are worthless."

—The Cincinnati Gazette, of Tuesday, says: The money market continues to work close, more however, from a decline in the currency facilities than from an increase in the demand for loans, the latter being moderate, corresponding with the limited volume of business in the country. Our market is now experiencing the effect of the withdrawal of currency for the movement of the wool crop. After a while, of course, this money will come back through the channels of trade, but until the turn is made currency will be comparatively scarce. Rates of interest range from 6 @12 per cent.—8@10 the prevailing figures for good paper.

—We extract the following from the Chicago Tribune, of Tuesday, in reference to money matters in that city:

The failure of William R Stone, one of our largest commission merchants, was announced to-day, causing no little excitement in Grain and financial circles. Mr. Stone has for several years enjoyed a large share of the Iowa trade, and his house had the reputation of being one of the strongest in the city, but owing to unfortunate speculations in corn and other prop- [illegible] he was obliged to make an assignment for the benefit of [illegible] in some [illegible] 000, but [illegible] be worth- [illegible] less. We understand that the [illegible] able assets will pay 40 or 50 on the dollar.

Late in the afternoon there were rumors touching the credit of another of our large houses, but on investigation they proved groundless. It is understood that a couple of curb-stone operators were forced to [illegible] sustained, chiefly through their [illegible] not being able to "settle the difference" on some corn transactions.

The money market was quite excited over the failure of Mr. Stone, and the sharp decline in Produce did not tend to restore confidence. The demand for discounts was more active, owing to the increased receipts of Grain, and the slight improvement in business generally; but the market was close, and many applications were passed over for consideration. This was owing more to the want of confidence than to scarcity of currency, for the bank quarters the latter was quite close in consequence of increased checking. It was noticeable that more checks were paid over the counter than usual arising, no doubt from the general want of confidence in grain circles.

The steady decline in the price of corn during the past few days has played sad havoc among the "bulls," and we hear of large losses—some as high as $40,000. It is understood that one prominent operator, who went personally to the southern part of the State a short time ago, and on his return went it "ring" on the "scrooge" of the farmers, has pocketed a large loss, but as he is possessed of a large capital, no material inconvenience has been felt by him.

Financial Matters in New York.

Gold Closed at 137¾.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 12, 1867.

GOLD AND MONEY.

Money easy and steady at 6@7 on call. The Assistant Treasurer has paid off $2,800,000 of June compound notes thus far, and purchased about $1,500,000. Seven-Thirty notes to-day. Sterling steady at 109¾@110. Gold without and decided change, opening at 137¾, advancing to 137¾, and closing dull at 137¼. Steamers Scotia and Hecla to-day took out $1,117,941.

RAILWAY MARKET.

Early dealings in Railway Shares showed a very firm market, with a general but not marked advance in prices. Afterwards there was a slight re-action, with less activity and animation at the close of the day, and a slight re-action from the highest point. The advance had been quite rapid on Railway and Miscellaneous Shares, which caused considerable realization. There was also more disposition manifested at the close to put out short contracts.

CLOSING PRICES.

The following were the closing prices at 5:30 P. M: American Gold, 137¼@137¾; Ohio Certificates, 25@25½; Canton, 41½@41¾; Boston Water Power, 24¼@24½; Cumberland, 31½@31¾; Quicksilver, 25¾; do Mariposa, 7¾@8; Mariposa preferred, 20¾@20½; Western Union Telegraph, 46@45¾; Pacific Mail, 141¾@142; Atlantic, 107@107¼; New York Central, 103¼@103½; Erie, 70¾@70¾; Erie preferred, 73¾@74; Hudson, 100¾@100½; Reading, 107¾@107½; Michigan Central, 118¼@ 118½; Michigan Southern, 86@86½; Illinois Central, 119½@120; Pittsburgh, 76¼@76¾; Toledo, 118¾@119; Rock Island, 91@91¼; Northwestern, 55½@55¾; Northwestern preferred, 86¼@86½.

Miscellaneous list better. Coal stocks quite firm.

MINING SHARES.

The Mining share market was depressed, and prices all lower. The Express says the breakdown in Gregory and Corydon speculation has demoralized the entire market for the time being. Gregory declined to 50, and closed at 53. Corydon opened at 100, and run up to 135; the large holders of this stock have been largely selling, of late, on conditions of the Company. There is an old judgment of $30,000 against the concern, which will likely be soon foreclosed, and we hear that the shares have been bought by Boston parties, have passed into the hands of the Sheriff, to be sold at auction within a short time. Quartz Hill declined to 1,35, and rallied to 145. Walkill steady at 1,40@ 50. Lacrosse fell from 100 to 90c.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point with scant four feet in the channel by the Allegheny marks last evening. Considerable rain fell yesterday, and it has extended to the headwaters of the Allegheny and Monongahela, we may have a little swell within the next day or two. A rise of two or three feet would be very acceptable just now, as navigation between here and Wheeling is getting very difficult.

The Kate Putnam, which boat left here on Tuesday afternoon for St. Louis, got aground at "Glass House," and she was still sticking there at noon yesterday. She is reported as being slightly out of the channel, though she is in the right place when she struck and swung around. As one or two barges were sent to her relief, it was thought that she would be able to get off during the afternoon.

The Parkersburg packet, Grey Eagle, had not arrived up to noon, having been delayed at Glass House by the Putnam sticking there. The Eagle will soon have to draw off the track unless there is a rise.

The Argosy cleared for Cincinnati yesterday with a very fair freight list, and quite a number of passengers.

We would suggest to the wharfmaster the propriety of scrubbing up the figures on the pier marks indicating the stage of water. Now that the water is getting down, these figures are of great importance to steamboatmen, as they are the only criterion boatmen have to go by. The upper end of the landing, just below the bridge, is in a very filthy state, and should be looked after by somebody, as it is a disgrace and a nuisance in its present condition. The stench arising from the filth and stagnant water discharging from the sewers is terrible, and is well calculated to breed disease.

The Bellevernon, Capt. Darragh, is filling up steadily, and will be ready to leave for St. Louis this evening. She is a staunch and reliable craft. The Armenia is next in turn.

The Columbia, Capt. G. W. Reed, is announced to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville this evening, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. Messrs. Russell and Splane are associated together in the office.

The Belle, Glendale and Kenton arrived at Cincinnati on Monday, and the Minnie, enroute for St. Louis, and the Lorena, for Pittsburgh, were at Cairo on same day.

The Messenger has been laid up at Cincinnati, and Captain Jesse Dean and his clerk, Capt. J. P. Jack, left there for their homes on Monday night.

Friday's New Orleans Times says: Business on the landing was very brisk. The departures yesterday were as follows: The Great Republic, for St. Louis, and the Silver Spray, for Cincinnati. The Spray backed out the day before yesterday, but her "thing didn't work," which caused her to lay over until yesterday. The Great Republic backed out from the landing in grand style, and run down the river below the Mint, and then came dashing by the city with colors flying, while her fine brass band played "Dixie" in such a manner as to cause our "reconstructed" blood to wake from its long sleep. Success to the Great Republic and her gallant crew, is our earnest wish. She leaves again on the 19th inst.

It is said the St. Charles on her recent trip from New Orleans effected the run to Cairo in four days and two hours out; having made forty-three landings for fuel and passengers, and lost three hours in a storm. She passed the Magenta at Vicksburg, also Ruth and Wild Wagoner; they waited until the St. Charles backed out and then started immediately after. None of them caught her. The Magenta remained the longest in sight, but none were seen the next morning.

A party of engineers will arrive shortly at Louisville to make surveys for the canal around the falls of the Ohio on the Indiana side.

LOW RATES.—A dispatch from St. Louis gives the following as the ruinous rates of freight from that point to New Orleans: Flour 40c, pork 60c, whisky $1,50, bacon, land and all pound freight, 30c, corn and oats 20c per sack, pound freight 30c, pork 50c per bbl.

The dispatch also says the rates were put down by the Atlantic Company, in order to cut do other steamers in the trade, in the hope to compel them to retire from competition. The barge rates are the same as above.

We extract the following items from the Louisville Courier of Monday: The towboat Wild Irishman from the Cumberland River came in early Saturday with three barges of iron and iron ore for Pittsburgh. She had to struggle through the canal with her low, but not having power to stem the current the barges were loosed on the reef at the head of the canal. They were lightered through last night and she made another start yesterday morning and succeeded in lodging the fleet on the reef again and the work had to be done over again. We would suggest a low tide ashore all the time and cordelling them up the river.

Saturday afternoon the new boat of Captain Wm. Kountz was launched. She is named for her owner, and is a little higher and has a little higher ascent will drive their business and some of their storage to the upper level.

STEAMBOATS.

FOR ST. LOUIS, DUBUQUE AND ST. PAUL.—The fine steamer BELLEVERNON, Capt. J. J. DARRAGH, Jr., will leave as above announced on THIS DAY, at 4 o'clock p. m.

For freight or passage apply on board, or to jel1 FLACK & COLLINGWOOD, Agents.

MEDICAL.

CONSUMPTION!

It would [illegible] lifetime to read the treatises that have been written upon this important subject, and if a sick man were to attempt it he would make himself worse by the reading, and die before he got half through. The symptoms of the disease are, hacking cough, expectoration of matter or pus, pain in one or both lungs, chilliness, burning in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet, exhausting day night sweats, hectic fever, wasting of flesh or marasmus, sometimes expectoration of blood These are the usual outward symptoms, apparent not only to the observing physician, but to the patient's friends. There are, however, more important symptoms than these, which are only made manifest by auscultation and percussion, terms which mean, in a medical sense, thumping and listening, and they are employed outwardly in order to ascertain what is going on inside of the cavity of chest. The signs o symptoms elicited in this way are almost surely demonstrate the true and exact condition of the respiratory organs. A perfect auscultator can not fail in ascertaining whether the Lungs are acting naturally or not. Hence it is the best method of examining the lungs. Their actual condition once discovered, the appropriate treatment is more rapidly arrived at, and every diseased part more completely under the influence of appropriate remedies. We have long been of the opinion that consumption or decay, or wasting of the bodily strength, was dependent on a depraved state of the blood, which carries, in its course, tuberculous matter, and deposits it in the lungs, or elsewhere in the body, idst as calculi or stone is deposited in the bladder, a small particle of which attracts other particles, until it becomes of such offense to the natural functions as to bring on inflammatory action, which action, if it could, would carry it out of the system, and which could have been easily done in the beginning of such disease. Dr. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP is a complete and perfect cure in the forming stage of lung disease. It acts on the very principle we have stated above, by enabling the securing or carrying off organs to do a double share of work. Waste and repair are easily comprehended, and if the worn out material be carried off, and renewing material of a proper character, must be health and ease, the contrary of sickness and dis-ease. In many cases of consumption which have become settled, Dr. Keyser's Pectoral syrup fails to cure, although it will do good in nearly all. He prepares a medicine called LUNG CURE or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE, which is a great tonic, and strengthens and restores the parts to be renewed, while it dissolves and carries out from the body those particles of worn out or extraneous matter, which only tend to clog or destroy it, by hindering the renewing material being deposited in proper place.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During the attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected,
